LAST YEAR'S SCORE & STATUS

88 /100    Free

A country or territory's Freedom in the World status depends on its aggregate Political Rights score, on a scale of 0–40, and its aggregate Civil Liberties score, on a scale of 0–60. See the methodology.

Overview

Latvia is a multiparty democracy that holds free and fair elections. Civil liberties are generally respected in law and in practice. However, corruption remains a major problem affecting politics, the judiciary, and the wider criminal justice system. The country's ethnic Russian population faces some disadvantages.

Key Developments in 2024

- The Partnership Law came into effect in July, allowing all couples, including same-sex couples, to register their partnerships. Registered partners are granted certain legal protections, such as the right to make medical decisions for one another, as well as social and tax benefits.
- On May 9th, the Latvian broadcaster Baltcom experienced a cyberattack during which it briefly lost control of its television channels, which then aired footage from the Russian Victory Day parade in Moscow. (The parade is a World War II commemoration that Russian President Vladimir Putin has used to promote the illegal Russian invasion of Ukraine.) The problem reportedly originated from a supplier outside of Latvia that had been compromised.
- In March, Foreign Affairs Minister Arturs Krišjānis Kariņš announced his resignation after the country's prosecutor general opened an investigation into the misuse of state funds— reportedly related to claims that Kariņš had improperly used public funds pay for private jet rentals for official trips. In April, Baiba Braže party was confirmed as the new foreign minister.
